REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS

April, 1918—April, 1919.

Since the Superintendent of Nurses has made a detailed report of the work of the Training School for the past year, the Managers desire to make but a brief summary of certain outstanding points of accomplishment during that period.

In spite of the great difficulty of carrying on the School caused by the absence of many nurses in Army service, and in spite of the heavy drain upon those who remained due to the serious influenza epidemic, some very definite steps have been made which mark real progress in the history of the School. First among these perhaps, is the establishment of the eight-hour day in eight Wards—i. e., the Gynecological, the Maternity, two Children's Surgical, three Children's Medical, and one Woman's Surgical. In August two more Woman's Wards will be included. This has been made possible through affiliations with the Army Nurse School. The Board trusts it can soon increase the number still further, as it feels this is a step in line with modern hospital training requirements and administration, and is one of the most important pieces of work the School could accomplish. Second to this is the inauguration of Student Self Government. This will not become operative until July, but the plan has been arrived at after repeated meetings between the student body and the managers, and discussion with expert and modern-minded administrators of educational institutions where the system has been successfully developed.

Another important addition is the appointment of a Director of Instruction, whose duty it shall be to co-ordinate the methods and curriculum of the four hospitals, thus maintaining a high uniform standard and assisting the General Superintendent of Nurses with detail which pressure of responsibilities has made impossible for her to cover as she would have wished.

Besides the foregoing, provision for serving night lunches has been made in Wards I, K, L and M, as well as in Pavilions A and B. This adds immeasurably to the comfort of the night staff and relieves the Residence of irksome and time-consuming preparation of night lunch baskets.

It is also most gratifying to be able to report that a three-weeks' vacation to every nurse will be given by the City this summer.

Through the interest of two of the managers a perfect cafeteria has been installed in the Residence.

Miss Hilliard has detailed in her report the activities of the Social Directress, whose first year's service is marked with signal success.

The appointment of a Welfare Manager for women employees in Bellevue Hospital is still another of the year's accomplishments, and through her most devoted and enthusiastic efforts a Club Room has been established and many conditions made more agreeable for these women upon whose work so much depends.

It would not be possible to close this report without reference to the safe return of the Hospital Unit from service overseas. Doctor O'Hanlon has promised to write a brief history of their work which will be included in the report of the School. In mentioning the Unit, the memory of the beloved Superintendent who gave her life in her country's service comes vividly to us. It was due largely to the vision and organizing ability of Miss Jane A. Delano that the Red Cross was prepared to send so many nurses to serve in the Army. In another part of this report a tribute to her written by Miss Ruth Morgan will be found.

To all who served in this year of strife and sorrow, thanks and appreciation are due, and may each one, pupil, member of the supervision, manager, superintendents and trustees, realize that heartfelt expression is herein made.

Respectfully submitted,

MAUD HOYT,
Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM

JANE DELANO

When I was asked to say a few words in memory of Miss Delano it seemed to me that this place and time in her own School and before you the graduating class made the honor great and significant. For hundreds of years schools and universities when the men whom they sent forth into the world became the leaders of that same world, were wont to describe them as their great sons. The great sons of Harvard, Cambridge and West Point are today known to us all, but in the modern world we must look for great daughters also. And it is certain that of this school Jane Delano is the great daughter.

My first acquaintance with her was in 1899, just 20 years ago. I was at that time interested in reformatory work for girls and women, and the Board of which I was a member were looking for some woman to be head of the reformatory on Randall's Island. You cannot realize the spirit of repression, of discipline, of punishment and of restraint which surrounded these unhappy girls, even those below the age of 18. I had been that Autumn to visit a reformatory for very young women about 100 miles from New York. They were placed in cages, two or three tiers deep on the walls with no windows excepting in the corridors opposite, and their food was passed to them through little doors in the grating.

When we entered one end of the corridor, they all began screeching and groaning at once like wild animals. And they clung to the bars of their cages, just as wild animals do. This was considered a well ordered and humane Institution.

It has been a life-long conviction with me that a wise woman who is also a trained nurse is able to take almost any executive responsibility put upon her with success, and for this reason I sought an interview with Miss Delano. When she was announced I recall the sense of size, of calm and of force which she brought into the room. Even today it seems to me that the power which was in her was more like the forces of nature, the tides, the force of gravity, than most of the human forces to which we are accustomed.

I blush now to remember that in the course of the conversation I asked her if she was timid and told her of the sort of rebellious outbreak and agitations which we were accustomed to expect among these repressed creatures. "I am not easily frightened," she replied, and then rather reluctantly told me of a recent experience she had in going to a Yellow Fever Camp where there was panic and confusion and where she had helped to bring order and organization.

The reason that I wanted to tell you of this, my first experience with Miss Delano, is of what happened after she had been in charge for a few weeks. This is what she said: "I don't believe in any sort of force but a spiritual force. If I can make these girls see what my ideals are and help me willingly to get them in this place, I will stay and try it out. But if I am expected to control them by severity and punishment, I am ready to leave. If such a rule is necessary, the lack is in me and not in them." Of course, she was given her way and the reign of freedom which she inaugurated made her just as much the beloved leader of those girls as she afterwards became in her own profession.

After three years she came to Bellevue. And there are many besides myself to bear witness to her wise, progressive and benevolent rule here. Between the time that she left this school and when she became Executive Head of the Red Cross she had passed two years in the country taking care of her mother. And to use an old expression, it seemed to me that during this time her spirit had crystallized into that dedicated force, dedicated to service, which we afterwards knew and loved in her.

How potent that force was. Last summer in Paris how many times it was felt, even across the ocean. I know that the surgeon general, General Ireland, will forgive me for quoting the many times he used to say to me, "Oh, if Sister Jane were here she would know just how to decide this." Or sometimes with triumph, "I know what Sister Jane thinks about that," or even, "this is how I think Sister Jane would like it decided." And of the younger Red Cross men who had worked with her all through the fatiguing year in Washington, we would get the same spirit. Colonel Gibson, the Red Cross Commissioner used to say, "It can't be right, because Miss Delano thinks otherwise." And I remember once his saying, "Miss Delano is just as right on other Red Cross matters as she is on Nursing, and I can't say more than that." But the great unspoken tribute was that of the ten thousand five hundred women whom she had enrolled and sent through the Army to France, their service, their high standards and their devotion were the real tribute to her great leadership. Because after all, that is what she was, pre-eminently—a great leader. To be calm, when others were distracted, to be sure, when others were uncertain, to be brave, when most of us would have been timid, and above all, to be generous, when most of us would have been selfish, was her practice. And if besides you add the vision which for years had planned a trained, enrolled and carefully chosen nursing force, which up to the number of thirty thousand was to be taken into the very front ranks of the Army in such a world crisis, as surely none of us had ever dreamed, was her work, it seems today like the fulfillment of a prophecy. It is to these things that she owed her great position as leader of the nursing profession.

And what would she say to you, the young soldiers in her arms. You remember in "Pilgrim's Progress" what Mr. Valiant said when he was about to cross the River Jordan. "My sword I leave to him that shall succeed me in my pilgrimage and my courage and skill to him that can get them."

Tomorrow night, all over this country, and Thursday night in New York, great multitudes are to gather together in order to do honor to the memory of Jane Delano and it is the hope of the army and the Red Cross that her body may be brought home to America to be buried in Arlington with military honors. This one evening will be a pause in our every-day life dedicated to a thought of Miss Delano, and among the brave leaders of the nursing profession who have to carry on her burden, besides their own, and without her help there may come in mind that historic prayer of the Scotch Army, "Oh for One Hour of Dundee," Oh for one hour of her help and guidance.

To you, her younger followers, should come instead this inspiration. Among you are the potential leaders of the future. Do you think that the great gift which Miss Delano had to lay with her life on the altar of her country was a sudden thing, born of a moment's sacrifice and inspiration? On the contrary, her power was acquired just where yours will be. In a thousand efforts, a thousand sacrifices and a thousand acts of courage and decision, which will bear their fruit in the day when you must take the greater responsibility of leading others.

RUTH MORGAN.

REPORT OF BASE HOSPITAL No. 1

READ BY DR. O'HANLON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In the absence of Dr. Brannan who has been unexpectedly detained, I welcome you to the exercises this evening and extend my felicitations to the Graduating Class.

It had been Dr. Brannan's intention to read to you two letters received from Surgeon General Ireland and Colonel Connor, Assistant Director, General Military Relief regarding the work of Base Hospital No. 1.

WAR DEPARTMENT

Washington, D. C., April 26, 1919.

Board of Trustees,
Bellevue Hospital,
New York City.

(Through the American Red Cross, National Headquarters, Washington, D. C.)

Gentlemen:—

Red Cross Base Hospital No. 1, accredited to the Bellevue Hospital, having been returned to this country for demobilization, I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the invaluable services rendered the Nation by this splendid organization.

It will always be remembered that the first organization of the American Army to be sent overseas were six Red Cross base hospitals, and at the time of the great Allied offensive, beginning July 18, 1918, thirty-nine of the forty-five base hospitals on duty in France and England were Red Cross hospitals.

Their readiness for service and the patriotic devotion to duty, as well as the professional excellence of the personnel of these organizations have made them the chief reliance of the Medical Service of the forces in France, while those on duty with the British have rendered equally valuable and appreciated aid to the British Army.

It is earnestly recommended that effective measures be taken by you to keep the organization of your unit intact and that every effort be made to imbue its future personnel with the fine esprit to be expected in the possessors of the glorious heritage of splendid achievement handed down from the Great War by the original personnel of Base Hospital No. 1.

In this connection I desire to invite your attention to the excellent work done by Major George B. Wallace, M.C., as Director of Base Hospital No. 1, and to ask that you convey to him my sincere appreciation of the value of the service he gave to our country in its time of need.

Sincerely,
(Signed) M. W. IRELAND,
Surgeon General, U. S. Army.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Washington, D. C.

April 29, 1919.

President, Board of Trustees,
Bellevue Hospital,
New York, N. Y.

My dear Sir:—

The American Red Cross is pleased to forward you the enclosed letter from the Surgeon General, in which he commends the work of Base Hospital No. 1.

It is a great satisfaction to the American Red Cross to have been able, through the patriotic assistance of your institution, to render such service to our Government. The American Red Cross extends its thanks and congratulations to every member of Base Hospital No. 1, and to the Bellevue Hospital, which was able to put such an excellent unit into the service of this country.

The American Red Cross earnestly seconds the wish of the Surgeon General that you will keep this organization intact for any future emergency that may arise and it is believed that the personnel of Base Hospital No. 1, will also wish to keep the Unit together and to keep alive, for all time, the fine spirit of those, who as the original members of this hospital, made this record of achievement possible.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) C. H. CONNOR,
Colonel, Medical Corps, U. S. Army,
Asst. Director General, Military Relief.

With your permission, I will read from The Caduceus, a publication devoted to the interests of A. E. F. in Vichy Hospital Center, a short account of the work done by the Unit.

THE CADUCEUS

Vichy, France, March 12, 1919.

"BELLEVUE UNIT PIONEER YANK OUTFIT TO INVADE HISTORICAL FRENCH CITY."

Blazed the Way for Vichy Hospital Center on March 12, 1918.

Base Hospital No. 1 (Bellevue Unit) which blazed the way for the organization of the Vichy Hospital Center, had 15,321 cases and 71 deaths in the period it functioned as a hospital, April 9, 1918, to January 20, 1919. In addition this unit had 756 Allied cases and 1 death.

Base No. 1 arrived in Vichy on March 12th, pioneers of the American invasion of this ancient French city. Colonel Walter D. Webb, then a Major, was the commanding officer. It was Colonel Webb who organized the Vichy Hospital Center and became its commanding officer; in this work he was ably assisted by officers of the Bellevue Unit.

Base No. 1 was performing all the work of the Center, occupying 21 hotels with the personnel depleted by surgical teams at the front, until the arrival of Base Hospital No. 19 in June. At one time Base No. 1 had nearly 6,000 beds, including the two largest buildings in Vichy, the Ruhl with 1,400 beds and the Carlton with 800.

The organization of Base No. 1 begun at Bellevue Hospital, New York City, and was carried on under the successive direction of Dr. George D. Stewart, Colonel Edward L. Keyes and Major George B. Wallace. The enrollment of the enlisted personnel began in June, 1917. Mrs. E. H. Harriman made a gift of $25,000 with which the original equipment was purchased.

The nursing staff was recruited from graduates of Bellevue Hospital, under the direction of Miss Carrie Brink. The nurses were mobilized on February 11, 1917, at the Colony Club and the enlisted men on February 21st at the Twelfth Regiment Armory, New York. Intensive training was immediately inaugurated.

Colonel Webb assumed command of the Unit on October 16, 1918. On February 23rd the Bellevue Unit embarked on the S. S. Olympic for service overseas. The unit disembarked at Liverpool on March 6th, crossed England to Southampton and sailed from Southampton to LeHavre on March 10th.

The night of March 11th the unit reached the environs of Paris and was in a German air raid. On the night of March 12th Base No. 1 reached Vichy and was given a royal reception by the people of the city. Headquarters were established at the Carlton Hotel. The enlisted personnel had barracks at the Hotel de Rome.

The first patients, 252 French wounded, arrived on April 9th. The first American wounded, 358 in number, came on April 11th. From then on Base No. 1 was kept busy cleaning and preparing hotels to receive further patients.

Two surgical teams of Base No. 1 served in the Advance Section before the signing of the Armistice. They were: First, Captain Koenig, Lt. DeVita, Nurses Hoskins and Ulmer, and Privates Crahay and Moore; Second, Major Burdick, Captain Weeks, Nurse Cowl and Sergeant Bailey and Private Hanson.

Major Joseph A. McKee was commanding officer of Base No. 1 from August 20th to September 24th when Lt. Col. Arthur M. Wright assumed command. Captain R. Hare was made adjutant of the Center and Captain G. J. Tyson became adjutant of Base No. 1. Captain Tyson left on September 24th and 2nd Lt. B. F. Holme, San. C., succeeded him.

When Major Wyckoff was made evacuation officer for the Center Lt. F. H. Steeb, San. C., succeeded him as detachment commander. Lt. Steeb was later succeeded by Captain George A. Koenig.

There was one death in the personnel of the unit in Vichy. Sergeant Louis D. Short died on February 17th from pneumonia.

Base No. 1 entrained for a port of embarkation to the States a week ago tonight."

We all knew Base Hospital No. 1 would render a good account of itself—it is especially gratifying to have official and public recognition of its work made in this manner.

GEORGE O'HANLON.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR NURSES

May, 1919

To the Board of Managers of the Bellevue Training School for Nurses:

I have the honor to submit to you for the year 1918 the following report of the Nurse Training School in connection with Bellevue and Allied Hospitals.

The year has been fraught with many and unusual difficulties, but one of our great handicaps has been the very large number of resignations from the staff of graduate nurses and the difficulty and most of the time, the impossibility of making satisfactory appointments to fill such vacancies.

The appeals of the American Red Cross by parades, public meetings and posters, for the enrollment of graduate nurses for service in the Army and Navy, met with immediate response from the nurses at Bellevue. Our supervising nurses enrolled at substantial financial sacrifices, but the minimum salary for Army and Navy service was from ten to twenty dollars higher than the minimum paid by the City of New York, and we therefore, lost most of our head nurses and those on the Tuberculosis, Psychopathic, Drug Addiction and Prison Services.

The appeals being nation-wide and our salaries so low, we were only able to attract for appointment those graduate nurses who were enrolled and waiting for assignment.

These appointments were few in number and temporary in character. At no time were we short less than 100 graduate nurses, and for several months we had vacancies for upwards of 125.

To bridge as far as possible the gap made by the absence of so many of our graduate nurses, we admitted 193 students in six sections.

INSTRUCTION

We were beset with many difficulties in teaching these large groups, not the least of which was the necessity for the creation of an entirely new staff of instructors. Our class rooms and laboratories were too small—none of them were equipped to teach more than twelve students at a time. This, of course, necessitated much repetition of teaching and additional instructors.

Miss Margaret Crawford succeeded Miss Grace Watson to the post of Instructor with Miss Annie Monroe to assist her.

In addition to the usual course of instruction, three Lectures were given by Miss Jane E. Hitchcock on Visiting Nursing; one by Miss Mary Wadley on Social Service and one by Miss Mary Slayton on the Duties of a Private Duty Nurse to the Public, through the Registry.

In June, 1918, through Scholarships from the American Red Cross, an opportunity was given to students in training to take a combination course at Teachers' College and the Morningside Section of Henry Street Settlement. Miss Claribel Flagg applied for and was given permission to take the course. We now have four students there.

CAFETERIA

On August 31st, when we were receiving a class of 28 probationers, we were confronted with the resignation of all but four waitresses in our dining-room. There was left one waitress to about 100 nurses. We created a temporary Cafeteria over night. This proved a success and two members of the Board of Managers have since equipped a modern and adequate Cafeteria Serving Room.

ADDITIONAL QUARTERS

In order to admit the two Sections of students from Vassar Camp, we were allowed to reserve an additional floor in Osborn Hall, and we moved all graduate nurses, except a few supervisors and instructors to Osborn Hall and Annex, which was built for us by Mrs. Osborn last year.

INFLUENZA

The last week in September we admitted the first influenza patients to the Hospital. They were enlisted men from the United States Navy. The disease became epidemic almost immediately. The Medical Wards were very quickly overcrowded. Sometimes whole families were brought to us by ambulance. Our own ambulances and those of every other Hospital and private business concern that owned them, brought large numbers of patients to us. As many as ten ambulances from other Hospitals were counted in our grounds at one time.

As the Medical Wards soon became intolerably over-crowded, (Wards of 28 beds had from 60 to 75 patients) we took over Wards 28 and 29 for men and Wards 10 and K1 for women. As the Children's Wards could not in any way cope with the large number of sick children admitted (the Observation Ward alone reaching a census of one hundred and thirty-four children for thirty-eight cribs) the Boats Southfield and Julliard were used as Annexes to the Children's Wards.

As we had so few graduate head nurses, the senior members of the School were given the position and duties of head nurses of these very overcrowded wards, often with no one but probationers and volunteers to assist them, as most of the intermediate and junior students were in charge of the Wards at night.

Heroically they stuck to their posts and by their devotion to patients, their helpfulness to the younger and untrained students and by their patience and loyalty to the School, they have won our deep appreciation and the reward of their own consciences.

Neither maids nor orderlies would accept appointment on the Influenza Wards, and when we attempted to transfer those from the Surgical Wards, they all walked out.

I then appealed to the General Medical Superintendent for volunteers from the students in the Medical Colleges to assist us on the Wards for Men, but these students declined to come to our aid.

The already overburdened student nurses then took up the additional duties of ward maid and orderly. Many of them came to us without vacations and all were unaccustomed to long hours on duty and to the emotional strain of such tragic surroundings on our very overcrowded wards.

Is it strange that they were an easy prey to the epidemic and that almost every one of them became ill?

One hundred and seventy nurses at Bellevue Hospital were ill with grippe and influenza—18 of whom had pneumonia, which proved fatal to 7.

The care of such a large number of our nurses, with the difficulty in obtaining graduate nurses for them, was in itself a problem.

For their medical care we have incurred a debt to Doctors Carlisle, Cramp, Sawhill and to Doctor Coakley and his staff that we can never discharge.

When it was inexpedient to send nurses home for convalescence, we have been able, through your generous provision, to send them to the Haven Country Club at Nyack for convalescence.

The usual vacations have been given.

AFFILIATIONS AND POST GRADUATE STUDENTS

We are in affiliation with 36 Schools of Nursing to receive their students for from four to twelve months each.

Their distribution will be noted under statistics.

WARD CHANGES

In the early winter, Ward 40 became unsafe for occupancy and the children who are still convalescing from poliomyelitis were moved to the Roof of L7.

After necessary repairs were made in Ward 40, the 3rd Medical Ward for Women has again been moved back.

Old Ward 44 has been redecorated and refurnished and is much enjoyed as a Recreation and Rest Room for Women employees.

Wards 8 and 9 have been redecorated and equipped, and the long deferred Neurological Service under Dr. Foster Kennedy has been organized.

One of the Operating Rooms on the 6th floor of Pavilion I and K has been equipped as a School Room for children. This is adjacent to the room which has long been in use as a Kindergarten for the younger children.

The epidemic has forced upon our attention the need of using as an Infirmary for physicians and nurses, the rooms on I¹ which were built for this purpose.

We are deeply indebted to your Board for making possible the appointment of Miss Bessie Gilman, a Social Director to the School.

She took up her duties September 9th, 1918, and has been of great assistance to us when we have been admitting new groups of students and graduates and in visiting convalescing nurses. She did much to maintain the morale of the School when we were too exhausted in body and spirit to give the cheer which was due both our nurses and their visitors. She has taken charge of the Library, has organized a Glee Club, Whist Club and Orchestra, has served tea from 3:30 to 6 P. M. twice a week, has helped with home parties and dances and has taken groups of students to points of interest about the City.

SCHOOL FOR ATTENDANTS

As so many of our students left us to enlist in the Army and Navy, we volunteered to teach the Hospital corps men, and asked that they be assigned to us by the Military Authorities.

The first of these groups were attached to the Bellevue and Kings County Base Hospital Units and remained with us from four to six weeks.

The other groups remained only from three to fourteen days each and were withdrawn without notification or immediate relief, sometimes leaving us for days without service.

No men were assigned to us during the epidemic, except a limited number to care for the sailors when the epidemic had begun to wane.

Altogether, we gave board, lodging and partial training to 430 corps men; 242 of whom were from the Army and 182 from the Navy.

There have been graduated from the School during the year three students.

Former students, upon discharge from Army and Navy, are one by one coming back in order to complete their training.

Of the 71 graduates of the School, 45 are known to have enlisted for military service in the Army or Navy. All of these men have rendered valuable service and of those assigned to the S S U Ambulance Convoy to the French Army, the following five have been cited for gallantry under fire and awarded the Croix de Guerre:

FREDERICK W. JONES—Instructor

STEPHEN BARRETT

WALTER BEYER Class of 1915

CEDRIC HEAD

JOSEPH McNULTY—Student of Class 1917

HARLEM HOSPITAL

Owing to the resignation of Miss Bamber and Miss Gillis to enter the Army Nurse Corps, there have been a succession of resignations and appointments to the Nursing Staff.

Miss E. R. Greene has been appointed Superintendent of Nurses and Miss Gillis has returned to her post as First Assistant.

The Hospital census has been high, having reached a daily average of 312 patients and a maximum of 460 patients.

There has been considerable illness among the nurses as a result of the exposure and strain of the epidemic, but the usual course of instruction has been given.

FORDHAM HOSPITAL

There have been 29 resignations and 29 appointments on the Staff of graduate nurses.

Mrs. Humphries left the Social Service Department to go as Chief Nurse with the Fordham Hospital Unit to France and Miss Sanford, who was appointed to succeed her has carried the work in an able manner.

Through the resignation of Miss Malmgren, September 1st, Miss McCusker was appointed Acting Superintendent with Miss Johnson to assist her. Almost immediately after these changes the epidemic broke out and the additional work in the Hospital and worry over the critical illnesses of the nurses wore upon Miss McCusker, who broke under the strain. She contracted pneumonia and died.

As Miss Riley had resigned to enter military service, the entire responsibility of the work of the Hospital was thrown upon Miss Johnson and Miss Gautier (who returned at that time, after an attack of scarlet fever.)

In November we were very happy in having Miss Malmgren return to us and take up her former position at the Hospital.

The usual course of instruction has been given to the affiliating and post graduate students.

The census of the Hospital reached a daily average of 259 patients and at one time a maximum of 346 patients.

There has been a high percentage of illness among the nurses.

We are anticipating the added comfort to patients and convenience to nurses, of the new building—plans for which have been approved—as they will be constructed along lines used by military hospitals, I trust that they will be ready for occupancy before the season for a high census again comes upon us.

GOUVERNEUR HOSPITAL

We have been very fortunate in retaining the services of Miss Stowers as Superintendent of the Hospital.

We regret that owing to poor health, Miss Silver has asked for indefinite leave of absence, pending retirement.

I sincerely hope that the City will grant her retirement, as she has given nearly thirty years' service to its sick poor.

Miss Adams succeeds her.

With the exception of the time of the epidemic, there has been a low percentage of illness among the nurses. This probably is due in large measure to the lack of overcrowding in the Hospital which has not materially exceeded its bed capacity at any time during the year.

The nurses are still in overcrowded tenement quarters and I sincerely trust that some steps will soon be taken to build a suitable residence for them.

I wish to express my admiration and sincere appreciation to the graduate and student nurses on my Staff for the courageous, unselfish and splendid way they met every problem and the heavy responsibilities brought upon us by the war and epidemic and most particularly to the Superintendent of Nurses—Miss Carrie J. Brink—who, with such reduced forces of assistants and supervision took upon her shoulders the added detail work:

To Mrs. Osborn and those other Members of your Board, who not only gave us so generously of their substance, but many of whom came early, remaining all day, day after day and week after week, assisting us with the work on the Wards and relieving us of all the details of interviewing the many volunteers and paid workers who came to help us at the time of the epidemic.

Their interest and almost infinite support will never be forgotten by the School.

To Doctor Brannan, and the other Members of the Board of Trustees and to Doctor Stuart and the other Members of the Medical Staff for their support, and to the General Medical Superintendent, Doctor O'Hanlon, to whom we are deeply indebted for his unfailing encouragement and assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

AMY HILLIARD.
